W. R. HEARST

162 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK, SATURDAY, DEC. 12, 1896.

THE VENEZUELA

too, is made upon the clause providing that fifty years' Duke of Tamanes. virtual protectorate by the United States over all the Re- have given the matter another thought. publics. The senor is affrighted at a phantasm. The people of the United States are not fond of protectorates, and if we occasionally interfere to save our South American neighbors from European aggressors it is not because we admire the governmental methods of Latin America, with its perennial revolutions and its petty internecine wars, but that we purpose keeping monarchical ideas as far from the borders of the Great Republic as possible.

and South American countries and the powers of Europe." served on the Mayor to-day. This apprehension is wholly unfounded. The United States It is enough to say at this moment that this action on nerian imitators of to-day to get their "latany European sovereignty on the soil of America expresses tion is at all adequate to the concession. of the United States will be at hand.

CURE

The remedy for the defects in the MR. HARMON'S Anti-Trust law suggested to the Journal by Attorney-General Harmon would very likely effect a permanent cure if FOR TRUSTS the trusts permitted. Admitting that the present law has many defects, any of which would suffice to nullify it, Mr. Harmon recommends that it be amended so as to prohibit trans-shipment of articles, produced by a combination in restraint of trade, from one State to another. In substantiation of his agreeable view that this would suppress the Standard Oil Company, the Sugar Trust and all the rest, he utters this optimistic opinion viduals in bons fide partnerships and corporations, however great likely to produce a very great effect upon the Republican Story. The audience tittered with delight. viduals in bona and partnerships and corporations, nowever great boss; an effect which may not be the choice of Mr. Choate, theme, "Let dogs delight to bark and bite, or enterprise, from combinations of rival concerns, no matter under what form or disguise, whose object is to stifle competition and thereby secure illicit control of the markets. The real nature and design of the organization would always be a question of fact. The courts have no difficulty in deciding this question when it arises between the parties. They would have none in deciding it as between the Government and the parties.

In order to make it easier to bring evidence concerning this question of fact Mr. Harmon advises insertion into the law of a provision similar to that in the Interstate Comdeclining to answer interrogatories on the ground of possible self-incrimination. These two amendments, in the Attorney-General's opinion, would suffice to enable the Attorney-General's opinion, would suffice to enable the Government to wipe the trusts out of Bradstreet's.

Perhaps so. But it requires no hypercritical temper to offer a reasonable doubt whether the high-priced lawyers employed by the trusts would find it any harder to prove that the American Sugar Refining Company (for instance) is a "legitimate business enterprise carried on by an association of individuals in a bona fide corporation" than they have found it to override the provisions of the existing in establishing a right to interstate trans-shipment of sugar, because such a "legitimate business enterprise" naturally could not be deemed a combination in restraint of trade.

No. Mr. Harmon, the trouble lies deeper than the inefficlency of the present anti-trust law. The people of the United States will never free themselves from the grinding domination of associated capital and greed until they apply the axe to the root of commercial oppression. The radical cure lies in the repeal of every law, State or national, bearing upon revenue, currency, transportation, land which fosters the concentration of wealth, which gives one individual or one community an advantage over another or which in any degree infringes upon the irrefragable maxim, "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none." Anti-trust laws, with officials competent and willing to enforce them, are a necessity under existing conditions, but rational reform of the conditions would make them needless.

LET US TO SPAIN.

so gracefully expresses America's well-deserved gratitude position. to Spain for having furnished (though unwillingly) the port of clearance for the vessels that bore the Italian that on an island not more than a hundred miles or so from t of every American citizen as a constant reminder of a moral duty of the United States. a moral duty of the United States.

Nor should the President's statement be overlooked hat the American people do not "underestimate the great Senatorial fight will be sure to fill Quay with horror and bring qualities of the Spanish people nor fail to fully recognize forth a protest from Hanna. their splendid patriceism and their chivalrous devotion to the national honor." It is a great truth beautifully put. We do not underestimate the Spanish people's "great qualities" of cruelty. bloodthirstiness, barbarity, rapine and murder; nor do we devotion to the national honor" with which they have to receive congratulations. tealously and untiringly been exhibited by General Weyler marks, that "the Gem of the Antilles may still hold its the Maine man did not think to apologize for his alleged Presihis life. It seems that the young man foolishly thred of Hanna are making an early start. Hance in the Spanish crown." Therefore it is well that dential candidacy.

NEW YORK JOURNAL there is official record of the fact in the series of messages of the President to "the Congress."

But Mr. Cleveland, unfortunately-through stress of business, doubtless—has neglected to include some of our lt. She had come back to dear America for causes of gratitude to Spain. He made no reference to a new season under the auspices of dear the claims held by us against her, which are so long past Mr. Gran, and she decided to take no risks. Exclusive publication was made in due that they endear her to us by sheer familiarity and and to appear in the perennial "Carmen. the Journal yesterday morning of the force of habit. Nor did he mention the high compliment But Caive knew this fickle community. She news from Caracas that the Venezue-paid us by the same nation when the Admiral Duke of change, and that the craze for novelty is as lan Cabinet had been compelled to Veragua condescended to accept our offer of free board, keen as the craze for lucre. She was on her listen to the clamor of the people and bodging and transportation during the World's Fair; and splendid, bilarious mettle. She sang and abandon its purpose of ratifying the he was mysteriously silent upon the subject of the honor acted Carmen as she has never sang and treaty recently made public in this paper. The Venezue- conferred on us when Spain sent hither to be our guests acted it before. As soon as she appeared it lans urge, we think with some reason, that they should be not only the ex-Queen Isabella's daughter, the Infanta those Metropolitan Icicles into smithereens represented upon the Board of Arbitration. Just attack, Eulalia, but also that young woman's husband and the The leicles were there to begin with.

becupancy of the disputed territory shall make good title

-a clause which, in the opinion of Americans even, is re united States are really under deep obligations to the law a talk, leaving the baby carriages

"First the Infant."

A man has pride even if he finds, on his do stab somebody in the back under cover and quite as exasperating, but before the first two nurses sat down on a bench to have a talk, leaving the baby carriages

"First the Infant."

A man has pride even if he finds, on his do stab somebody in the back under cover and quite as exasperating, but before the first two nurses sat down on a bench to have a talk, leaving the baby carriages

A man has pride even if he finds, on his do stab somebody in the back under cover and quite as exasperating, but before the first two nurses sat down on a bench to have a talk, leaving the baby carriages.

He first takes me to task for having said garded as practically giving the case away to Great country lying due east of Portugal, and that President sheer perfection of her art, had induced the side by side. Eventually two policemen and that the easy berth he was destined to something pleasant about some very well-Britain. With much less reason, however, Senor Michel- Cleveland's action in caffing attention to the fact was first thaw of the season, and the big Opera persuaded them into two strolls, only fill is no larger open to him, a man does known New Yorkers the other day, and asks how much I was also necessary. House was flooded with enthusiasm. I have around the shrubbery a bit. The kids not write home like a bambino. A man asks how much I was paid for saying it. sma, lately venezueia's Minister to the Court of St. James, eminently just and praiseworthy. It was also necessary, never seen this marvellous artist so spienting for if he had not done so the American people would never didily dramatic, so overweeningly coquettish. The New York baby waked up just in granting of a franchise to the Conconsummation of the deal. A summons has been served covered the folly of meeting apathy by The Evening Post, which is always ready to draw its news from papers it affects to despise, comments in doleful tone upon the Journal's Caracas cable. It fears that "how-ever this question is settled it will establish the principle covered the folly of meeting apathy by the attorneys for the Journal, Messrs, Einstein and apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the folly of meeting apathy by the attorneys for the Journal, Messrs, Einstein and apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the folly of meeting apathy by the attorneys for the Journal, Messrs, Einstein and apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the folly of meeting apathy by the attorneys for the Journal, Messrs, Einstein and apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the folly of meeting apathy by the attorneys for the Journal, Messrs, Einstein and apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the folly of meeting apathy by the attorneys for the Journal, Messrs, Einstein and apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the folly of meeting apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the folly of meeting apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the folly of meeting apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the folly of meeting apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the folly of meeting apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the folly of meeting apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the folly of meeting apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the folly of meeting apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the folly of meeting apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the folly of meeting apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the folly of meeting apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the following covered the following apathy. She hypnotized that large auditative covered the following covered the following covered the following covered the following covered ever this question is settled it will establish the principle junction should not issue restraining them from completthat we are to interfere in all differences between Central ing the transfer of the franchise. A like summons will be admit. Still, its repetition has a few ad- just as the other came to the conclusion made no protest against the temporary seizure by Great the part of the Journal will give time to investigate the est novelties" presented. Under those cirmade no protest against the temporary seizure by Great the part of the Journal will give time to investigate the est novelties" presented. Under those cir Britain of the custom house at Corinto, nor would have circumstances under which this enormously valuable franthe part of the Journal will give time to investigate the circumstances under which this enormously valuable franthe part of the Journal will give time to investigate the circumstances under which this enormously valuable franthe part of the Journal will give time to investigate the circumstances under which this enormously valuable franthe part of the Journal will give time to investigate the circumstances under which this enormously valuable franthe part of the Journal will give time to investigate the circumstances under which this enormously valuable franthe part of the Journal will give time to investigate the circumstances under which this enormously valuable franthe part of the Journal will give time to investigate the circumstances under which this enormously valuable franthe part of the Journal will give time to investigate the circumstances under which this enormously valuable frandown. Neither can Calve in the heyday of her career afford to indulge in experiof Guayra by Germany had Venezuela not satisfied that na- out serious discussion to a hitherto unknown corporation, tion's claims. The Monroe doctrine is not vague. Out of time to weigh well the possible advantages offered by the les who cry for the moon, and don't want its literal enforcement need spring no apprehension that corporation to the citizens against the obvious damages it when they get it. the United States is likely to take upon itself onerous or the citizens will suffer in torn up streets and ruined paveunreasonable burdens. No extension of the authority of ments, and finally, time to discover whether the considerait. England, Germany, France may claim damages from If the Consumers' Fuel Gas, Heat and Power Company any State from which they are due and obtain them with- has any real advantage to offer the citizens of New York tion was effected. Everybody has heard of till I have mastered the language a little Did the girl not know a man from a beast? out let or hindrance from the Great Republic. But if effort the Journal's suit will give opportunity to show it. If the the dire quarrel in which these song women is made to plant a European flag where none has yet flown, they will have a chance to demto establish permanently the authority of a King in a land to establish permanently the authority of a King in a land onstrate it. But if the granting of the franchise was in induiged. It was too crede and too demly. All that it is necessary to remember is that Eames hated Calve at, and they are so rude about it," said contading in the little curls at the back of her neck?

> IN THE CITIZENS' BEHALF.

Why, his father was one of the richest at, and they are so rude about it," said where Kings are disregarded, the time for the intervention fact, and can be shown to be, a steal, the Journal's case in was deeply affronted. Last night Mme. the New York baby. "Once or twice I San Gimignan, of the beaucourt will defeat it.

FOR

The followers of Mr. Platt of course MR. CHOATE laugh at the Union League Club's in- ultion of the fractured ice, Calve appeared, dorsement of Mr. Joseph H. Choate's and as the applause continued riotously, candidacy for the United States Senate. They say that he cannot possibly ob-the Republican caucus at Albany in opposition to Mr. up to her full height; Calve, with a jolly, mends that it be amended so as to prohibit trans-shipment Platt, and scornfully intimate that Mr. Choate is being rollicking, good-fellow grlp. There Choate's candidacy has been received, and the no less unmistakable popular disfavor that greets the prophecy that were thrown upon the stage, Calve select-Mr. Platt means to return himself to the Senate from ed a pink, fragrant rose-posy, and pressed terprises carried on by individuals or by associations of indibut which may very well be the choice of another than for 'tis their nature to. Mr. Platt. The last named gentleman, supreme and inexprable as he is, has gained his present position not by polit- sang more blitbely than ever, and looked ical brawn but by political brains. None is keener of sight Mme. Eames for Mme. Calve, and-I don't than he; none is more sensitive to the way the wind blows. want them to quarrel again, so I had bet-Very likely it is true that he could seize the Senatorship ter add-there is also no better foll than should he desire it. But he has several other objects in view than the honor of representing the State of New York in the United States Senate at a salary of $5,000 a year; objects much more important to him than that one, and nobody who knows him believes he will sacrifice those for this. If he can be made to see that his seizure of the operation of the can be made to see that his seizure of the operation of the can be made to see that his seizure of the operation of the can be made to see that his seizure of the operation of the can be made to see that his seizure of the can be made to see that his seizure of the operation of the can be made to see that his seizure of the can be made to see that his seizure of the can be made to see that his seizure of the can be made to see that his seizure of the can be made to see that his seizure of the can be made to see that his seizure of the can be made to see that his seizure of the can be made to see that his seizure of the can be made to see that his seizure of the can be made to see that his seizure of the can be made to see that his seizure of the can be made to see that his seizure of the can be made to see that his seizure of the company?"

Mme. Calve for Mme. Eames. It is a treat to the tottering wall.

Old McLaughlin, pinned down by a big girder, was trying to writhe himself out of the trap. Nando managed to get the old may they never, never indules in the same cast. May their sororal affection grow and prosper, and may they never indules in the same cast. May their sororal affection grow and prosper, and way." We wont have said the New York baby. "We wont have said the New York baby. "We wont have said the New York baby. "We wont have said the New York baby. The congratulate the charges on the tottering wall.

Old McLaughlin, pinned down by a big girder, was trying to writhe himself out of the trap. Nando managed to get the old may they never, never indules."

A new tenor, M. Salignac halls from the profession of the congratulate the congratulate the congrat almong them the indennite perpetuation of his State—he will readily mity of New York's Opera House, and his operation of New York's Operat abandon the less and choose the greater.

To this end the Union League's indorsement of Mr. thing considered, he sang his role agree-Choate is important, for it will crystallize public opinion ably. He is a good actor; he acted befter like the deuce, but there was that woman hodcarriers, who were tearing at the bricks Allister of the City of Churches as indorsement of hardly any other man's candidacy could than he sang. Physically, M. Salignac is a fussing over my bib, and, of course, I and beams and girders that lay mingled crystallize it. For it serves to emphasize Mr. Platt's de- overwhelmed by Calve's Carmer fects while it emphasizes Mr. Choate's qualifications; Mr. Choate being precisely the opposite of Mr. Platt. If popu- meister, the inevitable; Mme. Van Caulaw. If not, they would, of course, have no trouble at all lar approval of Mr. Choate's candidacy be strong enough it probably will secure, not Mr. Choate's election, perhaps, are familiar with the Escamillo of Lassalle. but Mr. Platt's withdrawal and his choice of another man The chorus was in wretched shape. It was not so offensive. Which is worth striving for.

The new practice of giving to Alder-ALDERMEN men the sole power to issue permits playhouse that they wouldn't patronize, showed how possible it is to background NEWSDEALERS. suited in enough abuses to justify its this "feature" of an operatic performance.

speedy abandonment. Hard-working, worthy dealers find themselves suddenly ousted from stands at which they, by enterprise and capacity, had built stands at which they, by enterprise and capacity, had built stands at which they have a chance to run in any darlings over which the men were bending.

As long as the stars twinkle, it doesn't gave me this plain pear one, so my mother that the bending.

Bridgle went and looked at poor, half-dead Nando as he lay. The men dinned the story of his heroism into the rears. She that Calve thawed the icicles from the story of his heroism into the rears. She that Calve thawed the icicles from the story of his heroism into the rears. She that Calve that Calve thawed the icicles from the story of his heroism into the rears. She that Calve that Calve thawed the icicles from the story of his heroism into up a profitable personal business, merely that the heelers fact that Calve thawed the icicles from of the local Alderman may succeed them. Others pursuing the Metropolitan is all that you need dispersion the profits of which are at heat slander and an occupation the profits of which are at best slender find and Eames are now dearest friends. On fingers tuted himself the landlord too heavy to be met with any will undoubtedly get a card from the Amerihope of solvency.

his privilege by consent of the adjacent property owner, token from the French prima donna with they are useful. You don't happen to see way through the crowd, and under his di-Among the bewildering mass of tangled verblage which composes Presigled verblage which composes Presi- was no logical reason for the change. If the space under Eames, de sa toute affectionnee Calve." BE GRATEFUL dent Cleveland's last message to Congress there is danger that one interest- rentals for it should go to the city and not into the pockets ing and important feature may escape of Aldermen. If, as is in fact the case, it belongs to the notice. We mean that paragraph which owner of the abutting property, he should control its distant the time for real statements of the consultry.

A controversy between two Louisiana editors has been settled et sail for a northwest passage to India and was blown by the more aggressive of the two killing his antagonist. Of course, there may be some further litigation over the affair, but the surviving party to the dispute feels that he has made

The discovery that money is being used in the Pennsylvania

It must afford Zola some satisfaction to know that the names politics. of the men who are elected to the French Academy are not at all familiar to the reading public.

General Weyler feels that there is sufficient substance in the ing man looks very much like a case of love at fail to recognize the "splendid patriotism" and "chivalrous Maceo death rumor to justify him in retiring to the cloak room nd his sub-butchers in order, as Mr. Cleveland poetically Tom Reed and Mark Hanna have met and shaken hands, but misplaced the combination of the trance.

Emma Galve Again.

The deep crusty ice at the Metropolitan was easily apparent that she ment to snap Seven Ages of Man

They hung symmetrically around the horse so surprisingly stamped with all the colors time to see them disappearing. of the histrionic rainbow. I have never Company, the Journal has taken the necessary steps to secure delay in the necessary steps to secure delay in the has studied her New York, and she has dissilence for a minute. The Boston baby

"Carmen" is rather de-vitalized, I will vantages. It crowds out Wagner, and it that there was good blood somewhere. makes it harder for the sycophantic Wagments for the sake of obliging a few fanat- some."

esting, moreover, for a reason that I may ing me." once adjective as sweet and pathetic. Cabre and Emma Eames "kissed and made up." To be more newspaper-y-a reconciliaindulged. It was too cruel and too unlove-Eames sang the "pretty" part of Micaelathe good young thing from whom the cigarette girl loves and lures away Don Jose. At the close of the first act, and in recog-Calve and Eames appeared together,

They held hands like two sweet, fat littain more than half a dozen votes in that a heroine uses when she "draws herself noticed, wiped away a furtive tear, with a But the unmistakable popular favor with which Mr. clean, white kid glove, but he is an intermax came when, from the bouquets that

Mme. Eames was in felicitous form. She adorable. There is no better foll than

Salignac owns a little vibrato, but, everysomewhat impossible Don Jose, completely

The other roles were sung by Mile. Bauerteren, M. De Vries, Jacques Bars, Castelmary, Corsi, and Lassalle. New Yorkers frayed out, ragged and unkempt. Poor your tooth to company?" Mapleson, in his effort to give New Yorkers the operas that they didn't want, in a for newspaper stands under the ele- artists with a certain, reliable and artistic vated railway stairs has already re- chorus. Mr. Grau pays little attention to As long as the stars twinkle, it doesn't

Under the old system, by which the newsdealer obtained and the American beauty will receive a Bostonian hastly. "I don't deny that A young ambulance surgeon pushed his small tea Thursday afternoon for Miss

The List of Arrivals. [Washington Post.]
It may be true, as Colonel Watterson suggests rived, but up to date it doesn't make a conspic ous showing on the list of arrivals.

A Fact Emphasized, [Atlanta Constitution The battle ship Texas emphasizes the fact

[Chicago Dispatch.] It used to be said of David B. Hill that he was a man without taste or passion. Now it may be declared that he has neither taste, passion nor

At First Sight. [Washington Star.] Senator Quay's intense affection for the labor-

Lost the Combination, [Washington Post.] A Philadelphia man was thrown into a hyp THE LIST OF TO-NIGHT'S AMUSEMENTS.

Two Little Vagrants
Fedura
The Queen's Proctor
Br'an Boru
The Genter ERSTEIN'S OLYMPIA, Santa Maria EM OPERA HOUSE A Florida Enchantment CS14TH ST. MUSEUM, Vaudeville ACADEMY OF MUSIC AMERICAN THEATRE DWAY THEATRE DWAY MUSIC HALL, MBUS THEATER REBOOKER H. B. M The CAY HILL THEATRE, ES THEATRE, RS THEATRE, THEATRE, AVE. THEATRE, A VE THEATRE 14TH ST. THEATRE.

How Bridgie Found Up to Date.

"First the Infant."

"Well, speaking of cheek?" he exclaimed point to a monstrous job in the recent aged or noticed choicer and more delicate his neighbor, a serious Boston baby, who But not until you know the English."

"Shall we call them, Jack?" he went on

"Indeed no; it is a relief to be rid of of her career afford to induige in experi- cultivation, and I find her extremely tire-

The Boston baby shuddered.

"Does she make you show your tooth to voice seemed light and unconvincing. M. can't swear when you feel like it," said smooth tumbling down as she ran. young New York. "One of my cap strings blew in my eyes this morning and hurt nized, among the burly bricklayers and ambition I should call him the Ward Mecouldn't say a word. No gentleman would."

> tle Boston. "Now my mother is a very vent her from tugging at the big joists and League Club; in oratory he rattles tongues superior woman, and kind in her way, but the mortification she has made me endure!" tered wreckage. "How?" asked the New York baby, sympathetically. "Does she make you show McLaughlin was considerably damaged, neither Elisha Dyer nor any other young

"Worse than that. She makes me wearthis!" flinging back his cloak to show a blue enamel pin with "Darling" on it in raised letters. "Could anything be more banal? Darling! Oh!"

gave me this plain pearl one, so my mother And he pointed to the motionless figure houses that have been acquired by the city

"Oh, they have their place," said the forehead.

strap. It cuts like fury. There they go across there. Let's call them, shall we?"
"Suppose we do," said the Boston baby. JULIET W. TOMPKINS.

Perhaps. I know a maid that seems to set The fellows all half crazy, yet I can't make out the reason; Although in friendliness we dwell And long have wished each other well, Both in and out of season. Still, I will own that it might be Somewhat more difficult for me To carelessly resist 'er, If I had just encountered her And she-this little maiden-were Some other fellow's sister. -Cleveland Leader.

Carrier of the Anise Bag.

that there are a great many inconveniences at-

Just Going Into Effect.

[Washington Post.] Those newspapers and persons who are growing nn is just leginning to go into effect.

A man has pride even if he finds, on his to stab somebody in the back under cover

Then a man has friends. Says a former proposition that I should publish in this partner of the wrecked wine merchant: "Your uncle calls you the flower of the ly married young couple who are now Believing that all surface indications heard her voice more sympathetically man-indignantly. Then he turned to look at famiglia, Nando. You shall come with me. abroad.

had pulled a volume of Maeterlink from under that Caive broke the ice at the under his pillow and was reading it besumers' Fuel Gas, Heat and Power Metropolitan! It was a difficult job, and last time she was here it was a task that glanced up from his book as the other one can live on maccheroni and black.

One can live on maccheroni and black One can live on maccheroni and black bread, but the rent must be paid!

believe there is a word of truth in it. Hundred and Eleventh street. Nando works like a little tiger. He becomes a particular protege of McLaughlin, the gruff suspicion. sarticular protege of Accarding acquires the bid foreman, and speedily acquires the trustworthy advices from Paris that the Irish. The rich brogue falls sweetly from Tuscan lips.

would already be up in the world, handling lous tongues the Chianti, if the foreman had not had a "My Katy's a regular peach, I don't daughter. Bridgie is her name, and she is think," said the New Yorker. "I can't certainly a scholar, for she carries a great Hundred without charging wrongdoing to The performance last night was inter- bear her. She's always going off and leav- load of school books. She never looks at those that are innocent. the men, not even at Nando, who dragged "Jane is inclined to take personal liberties," said the Boston baby. It is a serious day. Perhaps she had heard some of those annoyance, but I can't complain about her Irish call him Dago, or even Ginney! Basta! better. One hesitates to speak when con- Did he not go to her church and worship have started to speak to Katy about things, tiful towers, the friend of the padrone, albut she always began to run off such idi- most a gentleman! A man would go back otic gibberish that I gave up in disgust. to Italia to-morrow, with Angelo, and the When she said, 'Ah, goo!' to me this morn- good Francesca, if it were not for the pride fact that her stepfather, Mr. O'Brien, has a man has! Why was he working like a dog in a ditch, and obeying the roars of that "I know. I have been addressed in that fierce old lion, her father? Why was he about the Baroness is a little fad-but on fair-haired thing-with freckles, per Dio, a nal's clever artists will help me to show million!-walked past the new buildings you what the fad is and how vastly beonce in a great long while? Well, if he did coming it is to Madame la Baronne. not soon find out the color of her eyes he should leave. But if she did look, the dog would work in the ditch for the rest of his Miss Bridgie did look one morning, and Nando found it impossible to tell the fore. zel's beautiful banditti. man that he would quit work on the mor-row, as he had intended. "By Jove!" said wee Jimmie. Farley, "They didn't leave me a single red cent!"

pered like rats, but the foreman was caught. Nando turned back. "Willie' saved them."

The rest of the men got safely to the to the tottering wall.

She thrust herself in, frantic and agolike a heap of jackstraws. It took two of to whom I can liken Timmy. "Women have such bad taste," said lit- the men to hold the fragile thing and pre- In politics he rivals the whole Union brave old eyes.

"I heard Bridgie!" said he. They let the girl go, and she shot over to where Mothers are a silly lot, anyway," said the was dazed and half-deafened, but she ob- lyn, but the acquisition of Timmy Wood-Boston baby, looking sadly at his five little served that Nando had a nose and mouth ruff. and chin like the Greek marbles at school, it is my purpose and my custom to shun Yorker, "and fix this confounded carriage strap. It cuts like fury. There they go affectionate little wall must have aroused life with a play called "Temptation." Naudo, for as she drew back he looked up at her entreatingly with the superb Italian identity I take off my hat to Mrs. Westereyes.

And the slight Bridgie kissed him, too and withdrew, with a gallant little Irish she has given to the world such a budding stare in the face of the young surgeon. The two men were rattled off to the hos-letters and of fashion. CHOLLY KNICKERBOCKER. pital and settled in cots, side by side, a capital arrangement to promote confidence Bridgle, when she came to visit, sat be tween them.

McLaughlin was the first to be discharged. The old lion went off swearing that he much morey for things he doesn't want? was as good as ever. But Nando would never be the same little pocket Hercules. News. That doesn't make so much matter. One doesn't need the strength of a day laborer to handle the Chianti!

Meanwhile Nando passes the time in en- pulous politician, [Washington Post.]

No doubt Senator Palmer realizes by this time refined and educated Bridgle, when next refined and educated Bridgle, when next of the next refined and educated Bridgle, when next refined and she comes to visit him, a Tuscan love soug. tached to the work of carrying the anise bag in a Which, being interpreted, readeth, in Nando's Tuscan Irish;

Oh, Biondina, da boata read' t' starta! But wide it mi littia wan forninata mi. La barca noa goa t' wan cint! Mi dar-r-rlin! CLARA BYRNES.

the Chappies.

If it were not that the envelope containing the communication had been fastened with wax and stamped with the Knieker-bocker Club seal, I would have concluded that the fellow had stolen the club's stationery, for anybody who would be guilty of writing an anonymous letter would not hesitate to steal the paper on which to the Heart of a Dago. write it.

Somebody in the Knickerbocker Club has so far forgotten his manhood as to write me an anonymous letter in a disguised

® A Moment with

This was the fitting prelude to his own column a scandalous story about a recent-

He concludes with this cowardly injuncnames. Every one will understand."

I am fully awars that the story to which he alludes has been common gossip in club and church circles, at fashionable tens, in So Nando carries the hod for the rich public restaurants, and even in newspaper ontractor, Patriclo del Murphi, who is offices for the last fortnight, but I do not

In the first place the character of the woman assailed has always been above whole thing is a lie.

uscan lips.

A few weeks, and Nando will be able to who whisper in the vestibule of the church

The Lord knows there is enough of evil-

New York's gay world will receive with regret the announcement that the Baron and Baroness de Selliere have decided to sail for Europe on the 19th Inst.

They will go directly to Paris, but the Baroness will subsequently join her sister, the Princess de Sagan, ar Cannes. The Baroness's handsome face, beautiful gowns and superb jewels will be missed from the diamond horseshoe of the Metropolitan Opera House. That we have had the pleasure of her been seriously III.

not handling the Chianti, like a gentleman?

Because la biondinella—the little bit of a lty until to-morrow, when one of the Jour-

All the chapples were signing checks for their drinks last night because they had been to Rose Coghlan's benefit in the ternoon, and had been "held up" by Per-

That day Mr. Murphy's walls fell in. Old McLaughlin was superintending a gang of the "Old Guard," and when we thought men close beside the western wall, when part of it came down. The men scamblowed if they didn't run to Pretzel and our "San and tleave me a single red cent!"

I congratulate Mr. William Perzel on the sidewalk, and they yelled to Nando that it strict manner in which he chaperoned his youthful and inexperienced charges of yesterday afternoon, I congratulate leader of Brooklyn.

If it were not for his serious political As it is, we have nobody in New York mangling her little hands over the splin- with Dr. Depew; in entertainment he vies with Jamie Van Alen (one I, please); in all The two men were finally extricated. Old the graces that become a man of fashion but he glared up at his rescuers with his benedict of Gotham can compare with him. Indeed, Timmy is a man of such parts that one must despair to find his equal any-His latest exploit is to give a series of "There's a mon!" choked old McLaugh- farewell dinners as Park Commissioner of "It's horribly flat," said the New York baby, pityingly. "Some sensible person chest. "Ol'd give me sowi to save 'm:" nothing less, are held in various old farm order to note that Mrs. Westervelt gave a velt, not that she has given a small tea for "Miss Olitzka, of the opera," but because genius as Mr. Leonidas Westervelt, man of The Jesters' Chorus.

"What the deuce makes a fellow spend so "Oh, I suppose he's afraid somebody'd think

"Did you read the article published about cou?" remarked an acquaintance of the unscru-"No. Have they been slandering me, as "I don't know whether they have slandered you or not; but it certainly looks as if they had lone their best."-Washington Star.

"Who occupies the next room?" "That's a young man who is studying to be a

"What's he doing now?"

"Taiking to houself."-Ceveland Plain Dealer.